Happy New Year.

Thank you for your city leadership. Leadership sounds like, looks like, promises life like, the climate action plan.

There are endless connections in it. For segments of society, groups, ages, needs, and hopes.

This grain of sand of a planet that we live on has no time or beauty or sustenance to waste. Entrusted to us in every sector, taking care of it can be a source of relief, satisfaction, joy, life. People finally now ask me about pollinators, talk about EV's and solar panels. Almost no one questions the science. Your plan is a great launching pad for feeling empowered, as individuals, businesses, groups, schools, owners, needers, dreamers seek to find what is doable. Keep measuring. Keep asking us what we see and learn, and keep telling us what you do.

Our neighborhoods and associations, schools and businesses, organizations, could compete for change by any of your factors, and the city could support that effort.

Make sure this plan happens, and keep adjusting it, so we do.

Thank you,
Janet Wollam and Dana Fisher
