The decision to use this space as a beer garden seems to be one cooked up by the head of our parks dept. and other employees of the taxpayers .They already decided on its use without any input from said taxpayers however. Mr Trussoni seems to want the beer garden because it would bring in the most revenue and opines that the poor taxpayers of our fair city must get their due. Why then did you spend a million$ of taxpayer dollars on its renovation? This and the never ending money pit of the La Crosse Center fit the definition of Boondoggle(look it up if you can read). La Crosse does not need another venue where alcohol is served but the space should be used to explain to visitors about our native American heritage, riverboat history and natural wonders that make this a great place to live, work and play. Put it to a referendum. that at least would be fair.
