

The blue rectangle on the map above is the shelter in Copeland Park. There are several picnic tables in there that we would use, as well as some tables that we would bring, to display the items for the rummage sale. We would use existing parking in the park for people to park.