Location, if applicable
Summary/Purpose
To add a restriction to the length of time camping can occur at any one city-owned location at which camping has not been explicitly banned. A lack of such restriction has been identified as a key contributor to accumulation of detritus, with potential hazardous health impacts for individuals and the environment. Background
Currently, on those city-owned parcels where camping is not explicitly banned, there exists no time limit restriction.
Fiscal Impact
Small but indeterminate additional staffing expense for enforcement. Significant decrease in personnel and additional costs associated cleaning of established encampment areas	with
