Good Afternoon,

I am writing in concern of the homeless people taking over the hotel on French Island. We have a long standing trucking business that is right down the block from the hotel on Sky Harbour Drive. We have trailers parked in our lot with miscellaneous product at all times. This product can be beer or alcohol, which we are particularly worried about having so many people with alcohol / drug problems so close.

We are worried about security for our trucks, buildings and most of all our employees. Our drivers come into work at various times during the night to head out with their loads for early morning deliveries. They can be here all alone in the dark fueling their trucks, and taking care of anything on the equipment that needs attention, with overhead doors open. Many of our drivers do not even know all of our drivers as they are on the road most of the time and not here in the office. With the homeless being this close, it also brings the worry of a stranger gaining access to our buildings, semi's, etc.

Thank you for your attention to this matter,

Jean Hubert
