I am FOR adding sidewalks. Please vote against this item.

You can skip the rest of this message if you wish. I'm just explaining my reasons, that you've probably heard many times before.

I've walked in that neighborhood. I either have to "trespass" onto someone's lawn where a sidewalk would normally be, or walk in the street. If I were a homeowner there, I'd be concerned that someone could twist an ankle or otherwise injure themselves while walking on my grass. Of course, I would deny liability because of the trespassing. Pushing a stroller or manual wheelchair across the lawn could cause misalignment to the conveyance, or cause it to tip over.

On the other hand, I wouldn't want to be inconvenienced by wintertime shoveling. At 78 years of age, I take a long time to remove snow. Well. Not anymore. I moved to an apartment building with maintenance crew.

If they don't want sidewalks, move to the country.
