3 Mayor's Address

Mayoral Address April 21, 2015

Thank you ladies and gentlemen and good afternoon.

I want to congratulate the candidates and elected officials here today for their commitment to making La Crosse a better place. It is no small act to take out nomination papers, commit to a local campaign, put yourself out there to the residents and ultimately be judged at the ballot box.

The act of running for elected office takes courage and I commend and congratulate all of the candidates past and present. I also congratulate and recognize the council member's family and friends here in attendance. A candidate for office needs a tremendous support system and you helped to provide that to the council members here in this chamber today.

I would also like to acknowledge and thank our three out-going council members: Peg Jerome in District 10, Sara Sullivan in District 12 and Marilyn Wigdahl in District 16. Thank you, ladies, for your service to La Crosse. You have represented your constituents and the city with tremendous grace, and at times grit, dignity and common sense.

Please help me congratulate our three new council members: Gary Padesky in District 9, Phil Ostrem in District 13, and Martin Gaul in District 16 as well as Richard Becker, Audrey Kader, Fran Formanek, Paul Medinger, Doug Happel and Richard Swantz for prevailing in their re-election bids.

We have a great dynamic of experienced council members and new members. I hope that our veteran council members will guide and mentor these new members and that our new members will be open to their help and advice.

We have just finished a very productive two years here in the city of La Crosse and look forward to the next two years to keep that momentum going. I believe we can feel good about the progress we are making and yet know in our hearts and minds that we still have much to do.

We must continue our push at neighborhood revitalization, community policing, increased code enforcement, refurbished city parks, infrastructure investments, new transit service, keeping our branch libraries open, award-winning housing programs and redevelopment projects. The services we provide are the foundation for the high quality of life we all enjoy. We should not take those services for granted.

We will continue our advances at automation and process improvements in city operations, a revamped web site and improved communication with our residents and visitors, employee recognition and appreciation and sharing staff resources between the departments to maintain and enhance our services in a way our taxpayers can afford. We have the best and most dedicated employees anywhere and we need to work with them and help push them to raise the bar of high performance even higher.

The next two years will be challenging and how we address poverty – especially for our youngest residents aged birth to three, our housing stock and infrastructure needs, the future of transportation here in the city and the relationships with our neighbors will set the stage for years to come. I know we can do it.

Just as important as addressing these issues will be in how we work together. Our goal should be to always act with honesty, respect, transparency and humility.

Our most important responsibility as an elected official is to be a good steward of our precious resources. Tomorrow is Earth Day and I would be remiss if I didn't mention former Wisconsin Governor and Senator Gaylord Nelson. This quote applies – especially today – whether you consider our fast-paced lives and technology, our transportation system, neighborhoods or how we interact with each other. I think he is calling for us to get back to basics.

"There is a great need for the introduction of new values in our society, where bigger is not necessarily better, where slower can be faster, and where less can be more." – Gaylord Nelson

Next to our natural resources and beauty, the people of La Crosse are our greatest treasure and by working with them and for them – we can meet any of the challenges we face.

Thank you.

Mayor Tim Kabat
