Hello everyone,

I wanted to thank most of you for understanding the importance of adding walkability to neighborhoods. I took the attached photo at 6:18pm tonight, right before the sidewalk discussions began. Some may call it a sign.

A mother is walking her young child on the NEW sidewalks that were installed just last year. You can't tell me she would rather be down in the street.

This is exactly why this project, and others like it in La Crosse need to be finished at a faster rate and make definitely not a slower rate. No matter the cost, or shrub in the way.

My dog and I are going to love not having to walk in the dirty street, especially in the winter. I have all you to thank for that, and I truly do appreciate you allowing this project to move forward. Everyday, for many years to come, I will be thankful for you all.

Thanks again,
