Hello,

I'm hoping to make the city hall meeting about the bubblers today. But incase I don't, I would like to say that I think it's absolutely ridiculous that we haven't been able to drink water from the bubblers for the last half a decade, because one person thinks that we need to have everything transitioned into ADA compliance.

Since a hypothetical handicapped person, may or may not, be able to drink from a fountain. No one can drink from the fountains.

This is absolutely absurd. There are ways that having water on could potentially help handicapped people, even if they themselves cannot stand up and get the water.

This is by far the dumbest process of bureaucracy I've heard of in a while. We all deserve to drink water. Regardless if they are currently ADA compliant.

There are ADA compliant bubblers that are not even turned on. This is a joke
