Hello,

I am writing to say how much I value the arts in La Crosse. I am a local artist, born and raised in La Crosse and I am able to pursue the visual arts here because of the ever growing art scene. I believe that artists and the community are symbiotic in that we all benefit from a thriving arts scene. We have to nurture it. Please continue to fund the La Crosse Arts Board and all of the cultural programming they are doing. Let's keep La Crosse creative and cool!

Thank you,
Tiana

Hello,
What is a city without art. Cement building to work in. People rush in and out without a care to stay and browse the city. If there were more places with art work people would not only stay in the city after work but flood in on the weekends to see our city. These workers would bring their families for dinners out in beautiful downtown La Crosse. If only it were beautiful.

Hi Guys,

My name is Cora Brown and I am a 19 year old born and raised in the city of LaCrosse loving the arts so much, it pushed me to pursue a career in becoming an art teacher. When I heard you guys were voting on the budget for the 2026 year and completely gutting the arts funding to the city, I knew I had to reach out.

For the last 19 years of my life, my family and I have enjoyed the public art that LaCrosse has to offer. When I was young, we attended nearly every outreach event down at riverside, including the coveted sand castle competition, and some of my fondest memories are at these events. On top of that, the countless murals, sculptures, and memorials that the city has commissioned local artists to do are so important to the fabric of our community. Not only does it help local struggling artists get some much needed publicity, but it brings the community together. The most recent example of this would be the mural painted on the side of the Board Store, right before you go over the vestibule. When it was first being painted this summer I didn't think much of it; but now, every time I pass by I get to see a little slice of what life is like growing up and living in this beautiful town represented visually. By cutting the funding from this important form of media, you are cutting off a vital way for people to see themselves both represented and understood in the place they reside.

To put it frankly, without art LaCrosse has no charm and I urge you guys to please reconsider your funding approach to help the future generations of LaCrosse grow up loving the arts and sparking passion as I have had the pleasure of doing.

Thank you for your time,
Cora Brown

Hello,

I am writing in support of the La Crosse Arts Board. The city of La Crosse has become a more pleasant and vibrant place with the addition of public arts projects and the community it creates. Without the arts and culture, a city is just an empty shell. Please continue to fund and support the La Crosse Arts Board.

Hi,

My name is Max Sorenson and I am an artist based here in La Crosse. I am writing to express my concerns over potential funding cuts to the La Crosse Arts Board and all of the wonderful community-based projects it (when supported by the City) makes possible for each and every person who calls La Crosse home. The arts are essential to our individual and communal well-being, and a cut to arts funding would ensure that unifying and uplifting power of the arts is doubly marred, first, by directly cutting funding sources for local artists, creative, and culture bearers and, then, by the resulting implication that the arts are "a luxury" that we sometimes may not be able to afford.

I believe there should always be room in the City's operating budget for the arts. Thank you for your time.

Sincerely,
Max Sorenson

Dear council members

A city needs many things and is one of them as art. The local founding of grants and policies that promote the creation, professional improvement and events focuss on culture and the arts is vital for the growth and enrichment of a City and it's communities.

The work of La Crosse Art Board impacts not only the artists and the "art scene" of LAX, but also of the nearby towns, and if important to keep it up working and growing. As an artist I know that the arts move the economy, creates community, foment the use and care of public spaces, and takes people out of the couch to really enjoy the city they live and the communitythey are part of.

Please maintain the Art Board budget. They do a great job and La Crosse is worthy.

Hello council people of La Crosse,

It has come to my attention that that you are currently reviewing the city's operating budget for 2026 and plan on cutting the LAX Arts Board funding. This is unacceptable, as a resident of La Crosse who actively participates in the art scene, I know how important that funding is.

The La Crosse Arts Board is the backbone of this cities flourishing art scene that is a huge net positive in the city. Just a few weeks ago I attended the RAD opening and there is clearly a demand for arts in our city. This demand brings great economic and social benefit to the city and that cannot be understated.

Please do not cut the Arts Board funding.

Thanks

Hello-

Please do not eliminate the art board budget! I moved here 2 years ago from California, and have found the art community incredibly supportive and enriching. It's one of the reasons I love to live here. The art board helps organize our monthly artists meet up, and gives grants to artists who just need a little support. Please keep funding this area.

Art is important for maintaining mental health and communicating to each other. Now is not the time, in our struggling democracy, to reduce support for the arts.

Hello -- just writing in to fight for the funding that supports the Arts Board's grants. Supporting local artists and art-focused initiatives in our community is essential to the growth of all people who call LaCrosse home. Art allows us to expand our perceptions, think deeper and build connections with one another. It often reunites us as a body in ways that words cannot. It is key that we keep providing these opportunities for those in our community to grow their talent and for all people to have opportunities that present ways of thinking differently.

Please keep the funding for the Arts board in full.

Thanks,

Hello Council Members,

I am emailing you to show my and my communities support for the La crosse arts board and how I believe that funding should not only continue, but be increased.

I love the city of La Crosse and the Art within as well as artist community make La Crosse feel like home. There is so much love and I have been able to find community through the fellow artists here in La Crosse and the Arts Board is a foundation of that.

Please, keep funding the Arts Board.

Hello there,

I am a 25-year old living at 930 Copeland Avenue, La Crosse, WI 54603.

As you are reviewing the 2026 operating budget, please keep in mind that the La Crosse Arts Board is incredibly important to our community. I heard from a friend that you are wanting to strip away everything except some of the grants and fund for a few public projects this upcoming year.

This is NOT a decision I support. Please consider the many budding artists that find themselves staying in our beautiful city and the opportunities that support them through the Lax Arts Board. Although you may not deem them necessary, there are many other important aspects to their funding that it would be cutting off entirely. This would not be forgotten by our artist communities and supporters, such as myself.

That is all, I just really love art supported in its entirety and large cuts made is not something to support.

Thank you for your time,

Subject: Arts Board Funding-A Call to Action

To all whom this concerns,

My name is Kerrigan Trautsch, and I wear many hats in the La Crosse community. As a recent graduate of UWL, a nonprofit board member, a city board member, a resident, an employee of two institutions, a volunteer, an artist, and an activist, I have witnessed firsthand the transformative power of the arts in our city. Growing up in a small rural town, I remember visiting La Crosse and being captivated by its vibrant energy, the buildings, the coffee shops, the murals, and the beginnings of the creative pulse that seemed to breathe life into every corner. Since moving here for college, I've watched the arts scene flourish into a collaborative, inclusive, and inspiring force that touches every part of our community.

La Crosse is known for its natural beauty in the bluffs, but it's the arts that give our city its soul, personhood, and life. From the murals that brighten our streets to the music, festivals, and cultural events that bring us together, the arts foster connection, pride, and a sense of belonging. The recent opening of the Rivoli Arts District (RAD) is a testament to the momentum and potential of our creative community and it is the first space of its kind in the area to offer sustained, intentional growth for the arts. Coming from a rural area, and considering La Crosse is surrounded by rural areas, it's a lighthouse to creative spirits who wish to remain in the area while also having access to affordable, meaningful, and genuine art flourishing for all.

Personally, the arts have been a lifeline. If there had not been such a beautiful, committed art scene in La Crosse, I would have packed up my things and left for a much bigger city a long time ago. The creative community here has given me purpose, connection, and a deep sense of home. I am not alone in this. I've seen how the arts have revitalized unused spaces, supported mental health, and created opportunities for people of all ages and backgrounds to engage, express, heal, and process in ways only the arts can do.

That's why I am deeply alarmed and disappointed by the proposed cuts to the Arts and Culture Board in the 2026 city budget. This board has been instrumental in facilitating countless projects and partnerships from murals, concerts, local events, music festivals, and starting artists that not only enrich our lives but also attract tourism, support local businesses, and retain talent in our city. Additionally, the Arts and Culture board is the only resource in the area for any artist of any level or any medium to apply for funding of various levels. This resource and funding is fueled right back into the community as the art projects take place directly in La Crosse and serve as long-lasting or permanent investments in our people and our economy.

In a time when so many feel disconnected, overwhelmed, or uncertain, the arts offer a space for reflection, celebration, and community resilience. Cutting funding to the Arts and Culture Board would be a short-sighted decision with long-term consequences. It would send a disheartening message to young and aspiring artists, to students, to families, and to everyone who finds joy and meaning in creative expression. As someone deeply involved in volunteer efforts, student engagement, and multiple community boards, I can attest that the Arts and Culture Board is utilized far more than many realize. It's not only artists who benefit from the funding, but small businesses, downtown, non-profits, schools, parks, the library, and a plethora of other businesses that utilize the funding, the actual art, the business it brings, and much more. Its impact is wide-reaching and essential.

I urge you all to reconsider any proposed cuts and to continue investing in the arts as a vital part of La Crosse's identity, economy, and future. Let us be a city that values creativity, connection, and culture, not one that turns its back on them. We have a long way to go, and I don't expect that it will be easy, but it's essential to the longevity and livelihood of our home and community.

Thank you for your time and thoughtful consideration.

All the best,
Kerrigan Trautsch

Hello Members of the City Council,

My name is Luke Erickson and I am emailing you to express my support for the continued funding of The La Crosse Arts Board. The financial support that has come from the city of La Crosse for its artists is rare to see in cities of this size and I consider it a point of pride for our community.

I have included selections below from the Arts & Economic Prosperity 6 \(AEP6\) which is an economic and social impact study of the nation's nonprofit arts and culture industry. Several regions in Wisconsin specifically have been surveyed with the cooperation of the Wisconsin Arts Board.

"Investment in the nonprofit arts and culture industry builds the communities where people want to live and work. It is where entrepreneurs and creative economy businesses are launched and where nighttime economies flourish. When we prioritize diverse cultural expressions and traditions, it nurtures social connections, promotes community pride and identity, and boosts tourism by providing the authentic experiences that draw visitors to the community. If visitors have a positive experience, it may become a place to work—and ultimately one in which to live. Creating livable communities is economic development."

Thank you for your time and attention,
Luke Erickson

TOP AEP6 TAKEAWAYS

in the State of Wisconsin

1. Arts & Economic Prosperity 6 (AEP6) is an economic and social impact study of the nonprofit arts and culture industry. In the State of Wisconsin, the sector generated $933.3 million in economic activity during 2022—$437.1 million in spending by arts and culture organizations and an additional $496.2 million in event-related expenditures by their audiences. That economic activity supported 15,851 jobs, provided $640.8 million in personal income to residents, and generated $190.1 million in tax revenue to local, state, and federal governments.
2. Nonprofit arts and culture organizations are businesses. They employ people locally, purchase supplies and services from nearby businesses, and engage in the marketing and promotion of their cities and regions. Their very act of doing business—creating, presenting, exhibiting, engaging—has a positive economic impact and improves community well-being. In the State of Wisconsin, nonprofit arts and culture organizations spent an estimated $437.1 million which supported 8,854 jobs and generated $99.5 million in local, state, and federal government revenue.
3. Arts and culture drives commerce to local businesses. When people attend a cultural event, they often make an outing of it—dining at a restaurant, paying for parking or public transportation, enjoying dessert after the show, and returning home to pay for child or pet care. Overall, in the State of Wisconsin, attendees spend $50.59 per person per event, beyond the cost of admission. These dollars represent vital income for local merchants and a value-add with which few industries can compete.
4. Arts and culture strengthens the visitor economy. In the State of Wisconsin, 12.1% of attendees are nonlocal visitors who traveled from outside the State of Wisconsin; they spend an average of $112.38. Additionally, 52.5% of nonlocal attendees reported that the primary purpose of their visit was specifically to attend the performance, event, exhibit, venue, or facility where they were surveyed.
5. A vibrant arts and culture community keeps local residents—and their discretionary dollars—in the community. When attendees were asked what they would have done if the event where they were surveyed had not been available, 47.0% of attendees who live in the State of Wisconsin said they would have “traveled to a different community to attend a similar arts or cultural activity.”
6. Arts and culture organizations contribute to community pride in the State of Wisconsin.
 - 89.4% of arts and culture attendees agree that the activity or venue where they were surveyed “is inspiring a sense of pride in this neighborhood or community.”
 - 87.3% agree that “I would feel a great sense of loss if this activity or venue were no longer available.”
 - 81.8% agree that the venue or facility where they were surveyed is “an important pillar for me within my community.”

Hello,

I'm a health care worker in La Crosse and parent of two young children who love La Crosse.

Please consider continuing to fund the lacrosse art board. Over the 10 years I've lived here, I've never seen more exciting energy and changes growing at all areas in our community and that specifically includes the arts.

Think of any place you've visited and consider what made you say "wow, this is amazing." I would wager it often had to do with some type of vibrant artistic comment of the local culture. Art touches our food, our venues, our aesthetic, and more. I think of trips to Europe where I walk through a city and am constantly surprised by parks with an artistic flair, murals, and artists.

There is only so much money, and there are many needs. But a city without a healthy, well funded arts community is like a meal without seasoning. A pretzel without salt or mustard, if you will :)

Please keep funding the arts to the best of your ability.

Sincerely,
David Nash

Hello Members of City Council,

I am a co-founder/producer of Grey Area Productions which is partnered with The Pumphouse Regional Arts Center. We've predominantly been a grassroots theatre company that strives to allow accessible theatre for all, including those who cannot afford a normally priced ticket to see a live performance. We've always stood on the basis that art should be viewable for everyone.

In 2025, we received a $2500 grant from the Arts Board to open up one additional performance to be accessible without paying the ticketed fee. This performance was sold out. Because of this impact, we were able to have more audiences spread word of mouth about what we were doing and tour our next two shows to Viroqua. Our most recent show, "Every Brilliant Thing," had the highest audience numbers we've seen, with audiences ranging from Minneapolis to Chicago to Appleton.

We're of the mindset that theatre can impact our community greatly and bring in tourism. It works like a domino, and that extra push towards helping us secure rights and help support our art has helped us continue to grow in our efforts.

The work that the Arts Board is doing matters to our community. We are just a small piece of this puzzle, but I do believe that once these efforts start to disappear, they do not come back. Please be cautious while reviewing the operating budget for 2026. We owe it to our community and the artistic environment that we've created here in the Coulee Region for people who want to stay here past their college years.

Thank you for your time.

Hello Council Members,

My name is Caitlin and I am highly involved in art and theatre in La Crosse. I am urging you to reconsider the budget proposal in terms of the LAX Arts Board funding. With all the turbulence and stress in the world right now, people need somewhere to turn to express themselves and attune to the stories of others in order to build community and keep any semblance of mental health afloat. I know that personally, my participation in and engaging with the arts in the La Crosse Community has provided a sense of purpose in my life and allowed me to form so many relationships with fellow La Crosse citizens that I never would have experienced otherwise. Now more than ever, we need to build our communities to support each other mentally, emotionally, and spiritually. If the funding for the Arts Board is removed, that would result in significantly deleterious outcomes for our community as a whole. I urge you to reconsider these budget cuts as you review this proposal.

Thank you for your time and consideration,

Dear Mayor Shaundel and City Council Members,

If you live in La Crosse, you've felt how deeply art shapes our community. Our city thrives on local music, performances, theatre and visual art — a spirit made possible by the limited yet truly special opportunities that exist for local artists, like those created by the LAX Arts Board.

The arts give us expression, healing, and a place to escape — a third space where we can dream and imagine. More importantly, art connects us on a deeply human level that transcends words, language, and culture. I urge you to stand with local artists and champion the organizations that make their work possible, like the LAX Arts Board and its vital funding programs.

All The Best,

Hello,
My name is Julie and I would like to ask the board to continue to fund the arts program.
Many people go to the performances in La Crosse which helps your local businesses to stay in business. Restaurants, gift shops, grocery stores, all benefit from art performances.
I live in Onalaska, however, felt it is important for the board to know that I travel to La Crosse for the performances and usually will go early to have dinner at one of the restaurants before the event. Potential impact of less performances means less business revenue. How many businesses will be impacted. How much of an impact will this have the tax base for the city. Could the tax base be reduced when businesses struggle and may ultimately close due to less foot traffic.
I believe funding the arts will lead to an all around great return on the investment.

Thank you for your consideration

Good afternoon Mayor Washington-Spivey and Council members! Two thoughts on my mind I wanted to email about, thanks in advance for your consideration and response.

One of my fellow County Board Supervisors said it well: "I believe a strong arts culture is vital to the success of our community now and especially in the future." While reviewing the 2026 Operating Budget I urge you to consider leaving arts board funding intact. I would hate to see grants for public art projects and other programs go away, especially in a community as vibrant as ours.

Tangentially related, I personally vended some of my artwork at the Farmers Market in Burns Park half a dozen times earlier this summer. I really enjoyed the atmosphere, I never felt threatened by others in the area. Following the closures I've now heard feedback that certain areas downtown such as behind the Children's Museum and in the Heritage Center have seen an uptick in (sometimes unwelcome) foot traffic, unsheltered folks swinging through because they have no other place to gather.

I believe Sadee on behalf of the Farmers Market Association was also prepared to offer up use of Habitat for Humanity's Neighbors Day tools for use with cleanup. Was this ever pursued? Do you have an estimated timeline?

I deeply appreciate your service and commitment to civic engagement. Have a lovely rest of your weekend!! I look forward to your reply.

I can't believe you folks have cut funding for the lacrosse Arts board! Art is what brings this community together. The whole downtown is filled with arts and artworks that have been funded through the Arts Council. What is wrong with you people? Do you know that one of the first human settlements was found in Greece tens of thousands of years ago and one of the first things they did once they got their food and shelter together was art. Art is inherent to human life and human welfare and human purpose. As a text paying member of lacrosse City in La Crosse County I implore you to reinstate the funding for the lacrosse Arts Council forth-with. Council members, please do not strip all the funds from next year's budget for the LAX arts board. The aspects of arts in our community helps make La Crosse a beautiful place in the Coulee Region; popular for tourism, which adds to our economy too. All the different aspects of La Crosse, including our arts aspects, make visitors shocked of everything we have; they feel we are diverse in all aspects like a large city but have a welcoming small town flair. I've been told this many times over the years. Please reconsider the budget and provide some funds for the City Arts Board. Thank you!

Dear Mayor Washington-Spivey and City Council Members,

I am writing with deep concern about two recent decisions: the proposed elimination of Arts Board funding and the indefinite closure of two of our city's parks.

I am a life-long resident of La Crosse. Despite already holding degrees in Physics and Latin American Studies, I recently returned to higher education to pursue a degree from Western Technical College in Graphic Design—my passion and my future. Over the past year, my partner and I have taken a major step by incorporating our studio, investing in equipment, and committing to a downtown rental space. We made this investment because La Crosse has shown itself to be a place where the arts can thrive: the Rivoli Arts District, Arts Board grants, and the culture fostered by places like the Pump House, River City Arts, Root Note, and Grounded. These resources don't just enrich the daily lives of community members—they make it possible for artists like me to build a career here and for small businesses to root themselves in this community.

The Arts Board has been instrumental in fostering the growth of our creative community, funding public works that strengthen our cultural identity, drawing in visitors, and supporting local commerce. Cutting this funding now would stall the momentum we have built and weaken one of our strongest tools for economic and community vitality.

Similarly, while I understand the safety and management concerns that informed the decision to close the parks, leaving these spaces fenced and inactive deprives families and neighborhoods of valuable public amenities. Moreover, closing parks without fully engaging with service providers and organizations dedicated to supporting the unhoused population shifts challenges into other areas rather than addressing them, as has been the case throughout my 30 years in La Crosse. Please, take a different path. Collaborative approaches—grounded in partnerships with local nonprofits, housing programs, and public health services—are more likely to yield sustainable outcomes that balance public safety, access, and compassion.

Both the arts funding and the parks issue speak to a larger question of how we invest in our city's long-term well-being, our community. Decisions that restrict access to cultural and communal resources risk eroding the very strengths that have made our city vibrant and appealing to residents and visitors alike. Do we move toward solutions that uplift, connect, and sustain us, or do we retreat into short-term fixes that leave lasting gaps?

I urge you to reconsider both the proposed Arts Board funding cut and the indefinite park closures. Please work with existing community partners and seek creative, constructive solutions that strengthen our city instead of diminishing it.

Thank you for your service and your attention to these matters.

Hello,

Thank you for your service to our wonderful community! I am writing to ask you to please maintain funding for the Arts Board in 2026 Operating Budget for the city. There are so many exciting things happening across La Crosse in terms of both creative and visual arts and how arts based experiences are being bridged to K-12 spaces. Please continue to fund the Arts Board so that artists and arts organizations can continue to get projects off the ground and accessible to the broader La Crosse community.

The visual and creative arts can be a real cornerstone of La Crosse - something that will increase tourism, enrich the lives of both residents and visitors, and benefit the breadth of tourism based businesses across the Coulee Region. Please don't stop investing in what can help to rise the tide for all boats.

Thank you!

I am writing due to a concern of cutting funding for this very important topic.

We currently talk of needing to address mental health concerns for our youth and for adults. The joy and fulfillment in our lives comes from so many things in the arts. These include music, dance, theater, parks, and physical education. These funds help to meet those needs. Please do not eliminate funding for some of these very important mental and social needs that help citizens in our community to thrive and find joy.

Thank you for addressing this concern.

To the Honorable Members of the La Crosse City Council and Mayor,

I am writing regarding the current $3 million budget shortfall the City of La Crosse is facing and the difficult decisions that must be made to ensure the city remains financially stable.

While I understand and share the appreciation for the Art Board and the valuable role it plays in making La Crosse a welcoming, creative, and vibrant place to live, I believe that in this moment of financial crisis, prioritizing essential services and preventing widespread layoffs must come first.

Cutting the Art Board's funding is far from ideal, but it is a responsible and temporary measure to safeguard the livelihoods of city employees across multiple departments. A reduction in staffing at this scale would not only send dozens of families into crisis but also diminish the city's ability to deliver critical services to residents. The ripple effects of layoffs would extend far beyond city hall, negatively impacting neighborhoods and the local economy.

I strongly urge the council to make it clear that this cut is not a permanent dismantling of the Art Board, but rather a temporary pause to stabilize the budget. Once financial conditions improve, the City should revisit this discussion and consider restoring funding to the Art Board so that it can continue its important mission of fostering community connection, creativity, and cultural enrichment.

In difficult times, leadership requires prioritization. Today, protecting jobs and ensuring stability across the city must take precedence. Tomorrow, when fiscal conditions allow, we can rebuild the programs that add richness and identity to our community.

Thank you for your careful consideration of this matter and for your service to La Crosse during such a challenging time.

Respectfully,

Matthew Rumde

It would be a shame to lose any teaching of the arts in our area.

'Our' Instructors have been vital to keeping the high standards for learning music, dance and theatre for our students and our area...

The Arts have enabled students to find self confidence, learn how to memorize and exercise their brains that are on the deep aspects of music...it's totally healthy and necessary, not just for social interaction, but real teamwork in every way. This all can be carried on into their adult lives with pride. There is so much more to this than meets the eye. I hope this council will give complete consideration when deciding what has to be done with the funding..

Best wishes

Hello Council Members,

My name is Sara Hafften and I am a professional medical and corporate photographer for Emplify Health by Gundersen. I graduated from The University of Wisconsin La Crosse and made the decision to live and work in this city primarily due to the beauty of the driftless landscape, relatively low cost of living, investment in higher education, and the presence of our thriving art community and local businesses.

Recently, I heard from the La Crosse Art Club (which I am a member of) that the City Council is currently reviewing the operating budget for 2026 and funding for the LAX Art Board is in danger. If funding is stripped, it would all but eliminate the grant program and other public art projects. These grants are vital to local artists and businesses that give back to our communities, establish La Crosse as a cultural hub for the arts, and inspire future generations.

Please consider reinstating funding for the La Crosse Arts board to invest in the cultural future of our city.

Sincerely,
Sara Hafften
